TRANSCRIPT

Have you ever wondered: What is the purpose of an artist in the world today?

We are back with a third season of With Opened Mouths: The Podcast. The podcast that makes space for artists, poets, performers, activists and curators to speak for themselves. I'm your host Qanita Lilla, Associate Curator, Arts of Africa at Agnes Etherington Art Center.

Join us as we hear stories about creative visions that powerfully convey why art and artists are critically important right now. In this season my guests and I discuss: ways of being in the world, possibilities for liberatory futures, the essential nature of collective practice and the need for spiritual growth—all as means for Survival!

Episodes of With Opened Mouths are released monthly, and you can find them on Digital Agnes, CFRC's website and on your favourite podcasting platform starting in January 2025! Make sure to subscribe now so that you don't miss a single episode!
